

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

Grizzly Bears, Bernard Family Hall of North American Mammals

Grizzly bear moms are very protective while tending to or feeding their cubs. The mother in this diorama is showing her six-month-olds how to tear open a rotted pine for ants and grubs to eat. If another bear threatens her young, a female bear will shoo her cubs up a tree to escape.

Open Daily | Central Park West at 79th Street | New York City | amnh.org

GRIZZLY BEARS, BERNARD FAMILY HALL OF NORTH AMERICAN MAMMALS

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!