Student Conference on Conservation Science New York

October 7-9, 2015

American Museum of Natural History
New York, NY

What is SCCS-NY?

Are you pursuing or considering a career in the field of conservation science? Interested in discussing your work and interests with a diversity of professionals and mentors?

Come meet and exchange ideas with your peers and leading professionals in conservation at the 2015 Student Conference on Conservation Science-New York!

Why should I attend SCCS-NY?

- Connect with peers, mentors and leading conservation professionals in science, policy, academia, and management from around the world
- Develop relationships that lead to meaningful collaborations and inspire further research
- Explore future opportunities at the Resource & Career Fair
- Attend workshops on a range of engaging conservation topics

This year's plenary speakers:

Dr. Rodrigo Medellín

How to Do Conservation Science, Implement It, and Not Die Trying

Dr. Ivette Perfecto

Ecological Complexity in the Coffee Farm

Attendance registration is still open!
