

An Inuit Man Sees Change

Native dwellers of the Arctic are called the Inuit people. This Inuit man fishes in the icy sea like his ancestors did long ago. Every year he sees changes in his environment that are caused by global warming.

WHAT TO DO:

1. Cut out each picture along the dotted line.
2. Arrange the pictures in the right order.
3. When you're happy with the order, tape them together on the backside.
4. Color the pictures!
