

A day to inspire students to develop their academic path in science

Advances in Geosciences

Tour the Mine

Collect rock specimens

Talk with scientists

Sterling Hill Mine is located in New Jersey about an hour and half west of New York City. This special day will provide students, along with their teacher, an opportunity to tour an underground zinc mine, collect rock specimen, and be able to discuss and ask questions with research scientist and Earth and Planetary curator Jim Webster.
Sign up: <https://goo.gl/6mEb4D>

Advances in Geosciences at Sterling
Hill Mining Museum
Saturday, April 28, 2018
9:15 am - 5 p.m.

Funding for this event is provided by
National Science Foundation award
EAR-1219484.

 AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY