

American Museum
of Natural History

Center for Biodiversity and Conservation

The 16th Annual

Save the Date!

STUDENT CONFERENCE ON CONSERVATION SCIENCE NEW YORK

October 15–17, 2025

On-site at the American Museum of Natural History & Virtual

- Present your research and receive feedback from mentors
- Network with conservation professionals and peers
- Build your skills at workshops

"This is the only conference where I've seen mentorship being provided to students, and this is absolutely amazing. The feedback is very helpful and a chance to talk to mentors during lunches and during breaks is extremely valuable."

– Ph.D. Student

Applications open March 1st!

Community Care at SCCS–NY

We want our on-site events to be as safe and comfortable as possible for participants, staff, and the public. We will have KN95 (or similar) masks and COVID-19 rapid antigen tests available. For up-to-date Museum policies, please visit the conference website or email sccs@amnh.org.

amnh.org/sccsny

sccs@amnh.org

American Museum
of Natural History

Center for Biodiversity and Conservation

The 16th Annual

STUDENT CONFERENCE ON CONSERVATION SCIENCE NEW YORK

Save the Date!

October 15–17, 2025

On-site at the American Museum of Natural History & Virtual

- Present your research & receive feedback from mentors
- Network with conservation professionals & peers
- Build your skills at workshops

Applications open March 1st!

amnh.org/sccsny

sccs@amnh.org

Community Care at SCCS–NY

We want our on-site events to be as safe and comfortable as possible for participants, staff, and the public. We will have KN95 (or similar) masks and COVID-19 rapid antigen tests available. For up-to-date Museum policies, please visit the conference website or email sccs@amnh.org.

Photos: Daniel Kim / AMNH

