

Which two populations breed most frequently with one another?

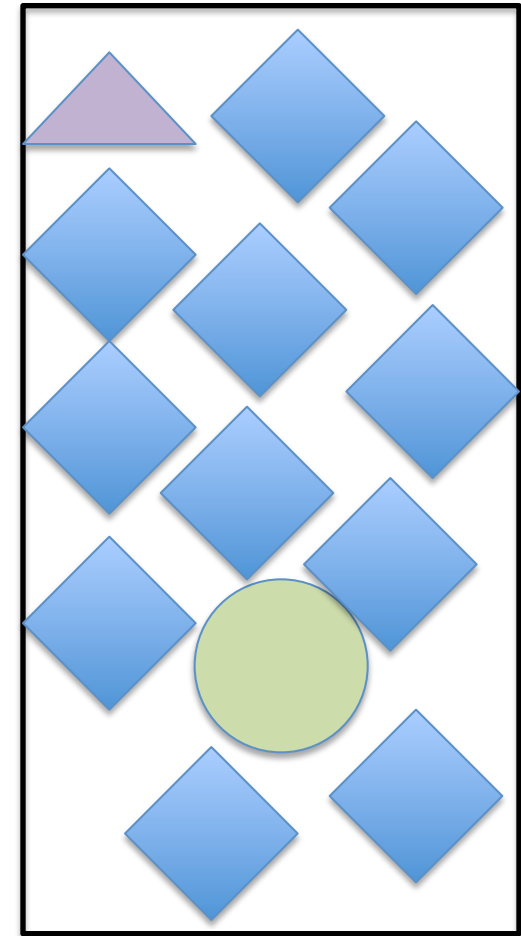

Population A

Population B

Population C

The shapes (  ) represent different alleles or versions of the same gene.