Scientists On SCIENCE AND FAITH

Inter-title #1:
Without the framework of evolution to understand what we look at everyday, it would make no sense.
—Francis Collins

Inter-title #2A:
There is nothing inherently contradictory about both being a scientist and having religious faith.
—Richard Fortey

Inter-title #2B:
Evolution is an equal opportunity foundation for any number of religious or non-religious ideas.
—Eugenie Scott

Inter-title #3:
God in the Gaps

Inter-title #4:
Science by definition is an encounter with the unknown.
—Kenneth Miller

Inter-title #5:
It's not really about evolution being a weak scientific theory.
—Eugenie Scott

Inter-title #6:
There is a grandeur in this view of life.
—Charles Darwin